Petition for Exemption from Closed Captioning Requirements

Christian Faith Fellowship was founded in 1976 and is located in Cape Girardeau, Missouri. The mission of the church is to preach of gospel of Jesus Christ, reaching out with the love of God to our city, our country and the world.

The program is produced to teach Biblical principles that will lead to life changing experiences. The program accompanies the church in spreading the message of these principles of Christ to the community.

The program is aired weekly on the local television station, KFVS 12 at 1:08 a.m. on Friday mornings. The length is approximately 29 minutes and 56 seconds. The show is produced by Pastor Mark Carbaugh as well as other church volunteers.

The reason set forth below, Christian Faith Fellowship hereby requests an undue burden exemption from the closed captioning rules for "Principles For Successful Living," pursuant to S 79.1 (f) of the Commission's rules.

Efforts were made to search out costs of new equipment for closed captions, costing approximately $8,190, plus staffing to operate the system. Attached is an invoice of such equipment. At present, the cost of the show per spot is $175. The church has already incurred equipment expense of approximately $333,777. By adding additional equipment expense would unduly add a burden to the church budget.

We have considered and rejected alternatives to closed caption, such as subtitles, a scroll with the text of the sermon, or some other method, because the cost factor is the same. With these alternative methods, the church would have to hire individuals to scribe each show, with the cost of editing time, the cost would be the same for closed caption.

The impact of the operations for additional expenditures would more than double the cost of each show. At present, the cost for our time block is $175 per show through the local station. With additional costs of video capturing and video editing, which runs approximately six hours per show, at $55 per hour, calculates to another $450 per episode. Since the church does not solicit monies from the program, the added expense of the "new closed caption equipment" and personnel would unduly burden the church. We do not have within our budget, monies for hiring additional staff for scribing the text or purchasing of new equipment for airing on KFVS-TV. Costs for outsourcing the "closed captions" would be $225. per thirty minute show.

The church has a tax-exempt status and is incorporated as a non-profit operated exclusively for the religious purposes of a church within the meaning of Section 501 c (3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by the United States of America. Attached is documentation of this. The church operates solely on the donations from attendees and members of the church. The main and only source of income are these charitable donations. The expenditures the church incurs are those that keep the ministry functioning. Utilities, advertising, printing and production, mortgage, salaries and feeding and taking care of those in need are just a few areas that are covered through our general expenses. Funds are also distributed to various missions local and abroad. We have functions through out the year, providing dinners and productions open to the community. The church founded and supports Eagle Ridge Christian School. The school is accredited through North Central Association of Colleges and Schools as well as the International Christian Accrediting Association which operates a preschool through the 12th grade. In addition, the church fully supports the television program that is produced by staff and volunteers alike. To purchase additional equipment for closed captioning and staffing would eliminate one or more of the essential ministries many depend upon.

We have not solicited assistance from our programming distributor for captioning assistance.

In conclusion, as shown by this Petition and its attachments, the Commission should grant a waiver of the closed captioning requirements in this case, because requiring closed captioning would create an undue burden. The costs of captioning would be excessively high and would have a significant impact on Petitioner's operations. The Petitioner's type of operations and financial resources are different in kind and magnitude from a mainstream programming provider. Because of the significant difficulty and expense of providing closed captions, a wavier under S79.1 (f) is warranted. If more information is needed, please contact me at the address provided below.

Respectfully submitted,

Christian Faith Fellowship

How to caption a tape with the CPC-700

Just like the CPC-600, the user must first obtain a copy of the script. Once this has been done, the script is imported into the CaptionMaker software and instantly broken up into captions. Now at this point where a CPC-600 user would turn the record VCR on and start captioning, the CPC-700 user plays the playback tape, and associate time code to each and every captions. When the captioner presses the (+) key to send the captions, the time code from the videotape is recorded alongside the caption. If the captioner makes a mistake, he simply rewinds the tape, fixes his mistake, and continues. Once time-code values have been assigned to all of the captions, the final encoding is done. The playback tape is played, and the recording VCR is set to record. The "AutoSync" button on the CPC-700 is pressed, and captions are automatically sent out according to the time-code on the tape.

1	CPC	CCAPTIONDV	CAPTIONING SOFTWARE.	995.00

How to caption a tape with the CPC-600

As with all of our software packages, the user must first obtain a copy of the script. Once this has been done, the script is imported into the CaptionMaker software and instantly broken up into captions. The main difference in the process of the CPC-700 and the CPC-600 comes here. With the CPC-700, a file is prepared using time-code, and once it is finished, the final encoding is done. But the CPC-600 doesn't have time code option. So there is no file preparation, the captions are encoded to the tape as the captioner sends them.

The play video is started, and the record video is set to record, and the captioner captions the video by pressing the (+) key as they hear the first word of each caption spoken. If the captioner does not make any mistakes, this method can be incredibly fast. However, if the captioner makes a mistake, their work is ruined, they must start over. It is very unlikely that a captioner can caption a 30 minute video without making any mistake: considering that a 30 minute video can easily be over 500 hundred captions.

Dear Sir or Madam:

This is in response to your request regarding your organization's tax-exempt status.

In November 1986, we issued a determination letter that recognized your organization as exempt from federal income tax. Our records indicate that your organization is currently exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

We classified your organization as one that is not a private foundation within the meaning of section 509(a) of the Code because it is an organization described in sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(i). This classification was based on the assumption that your organization's operations would continue as stated in your application. If your sources of support, character, method of operations, or purposes have changed, please let us know so we can consider the effect of the change on your organization's exempt and foundation status.

All exempt organizations (unless specifically excluded) are liable for taxes under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (social security taxes) on remuneration of $100 or more paid each employee during a calendar year. Your organization is not liable for the tax imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA).

If your organization is a church or a qualified church-controlled organization as defined in section 3121(w)(3) of the Code, it may elect to exclude from social security taxes wages paid to its employees (other than for services performed in an unrelated trade or business). This election must be made by filing Form 8274 by the day before the date the organization's first quarterly employment tax return would be due under the revised law. If your organization makes this election, its employees who earn $100 or more during a calendar year become liable for the payment of the self-employment tax on the wages the organization pays them.

Donors may deduct contributions to your organization as provided in section 170 of the Code. Bequests, legacies, devises, transfers, or gifts to your organization or for its use are deductible for federal estate and gift tax purposes if they meet the applicable provisions of sections 2055, 2106, and 2522 of the Code.

Christian Faith Fellowship
43-1087097

Your organization is not required to file federal income tax returns unless it is subject to the tax on unrelated business income under section 511 of the Code. If your organization is subject to this tax, it must file an income tax return on the Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. In this letter, we are not determining whether any of your organization's present or proposed activities are unrelated trade or business as defined in section 513 of the Code.

Organizations that are not private foundations are not subject to the excise taxes under Chapter 42 of the Code. However, these organizations are not automatically exempt from other federal excise taxes.

Section 6104 of the Internal Revenue Code requires organizations that received recognition of exemption on July 15, 1987, or later, to make available for public inspection a copy of the exemption application, any supporting documents and the exemption letter to any individual who requests such documents in person or in writing. Organizations that received recognition of exemption before July 15, 1987, and had a copy of their exemption application on July 15, 1987, are also required to make available for public inspection a copy of the exemption application, any supporting documents and the exemption letter to any individual who requests such documents in person or in writing. For additional information on disclosure requirements, please refer to Internal Revenue Bulletin 1999 - 17.

Because this letter could help resolve questions about your organization's exempt status and foundation status, you should keep it with the organization's permanent records.

If you have any questions, please call us at the telephone number shown in the heading of this letter.

This letter affirms your organization's exempt status.

Sincerely,

Donna Carlisle
